

OFFICE OF VETERAN AND MILITARY AFFAIRS AND CAREER SERVICES

"Syracuse University embraced veterans when almost all of our peers turned their backs on them at the end of World War II...I believe Syracuse University must once again become the best place for veterans."

—Chancellor and President, Kent Syverud

COMMITMENT TO VETERANS

Syracuse University is steeped in historical commitments that serve our nation's veterans. In 2014, Chancellor and President Kent Syverud reaffirmed Syracuse University's commitment to become the best place for veterans. The Office of Veterans and Military Affairs (OVMA) was formed to spearhead this mission.

OVMA and Career Services are dedicated to meet the employment needs of our student veterans and military dependents.

#1

Ranked research university in New York by Military Times

#1

Ranked for Online Computer Information Technology programs for vets by U.S. News & World Report

#2

Ranked Business School in the Nation for Military and Veteran Support by Military Times

#35

Overall best college for vets by Military Times

COMMITMENT TO ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Syracuse University's schools and colleges deliver top programs in such areas as public administration, communications, entrepreneurship, and information technology. Student veterans and military dependents are represented throughout.

#1

Ranked graduate program for Information Systems by U.S. News & World Report

#1

Ranked School for Public Affairs by U.S. News & World Report

#1

Ranked Journalism School by U.S. News & World Report

Student Veterans Study Areas

Biomedical Forensics Sciences
Biotechnology
Business Administration
Computer Science
Economics
Electrical Engineering
Engineering Management
Entrepreneurship & Emerging Enterprises
Finance

Information Management
International Relations
Law
Nutrition
Policy Studies
Political Science
Public Administration
Public Health
Public Relations
Sports Management
Special Sciences

OFFICE OF VETERAN AND MILITARY AFFAIRS AND CAREER SERVICES

“Syracuse University embraced veterans when almost all of our peers turned their backs on them at the end of World War II...I believe Syracuse University must once again become the best place for veterans.”

–Chancellor and President, Kent Syverud

COMPANIES WHO HIRE ORANGE VETS

In addition to its commitment to student Veterans and their families' academic excellence, Syracuse University promotes experiential learning through internships, co-ops, public service, and much more.

This balance between academics and practical application is why both large and small employers recruit and hire Orange Vets, including the following:

Accenture	IBM
Aetna	Invision Health
Arnold Worldwide	JPMorgan Chase
Bloomberg	Macy's
Cognizant	MWB Broadcasting
Ernst & Young	National Grid
Fidelity	SBB Inc.
First Data	Solar City
General Electric	Syracuse University
Goldman Sachs	Your company here!

CONNECT WITH STUDENT VETERANS

OVMA and Career Services are pleased to offer a number of opportunities for employers to connect with highly qualified student veterans and military dependents to showcase their organization and develop a pipeline of talent from Syracuse.

On-Campus Recruiting

Your opportunity to interview highly qualified undergraduate and graduate student Veterans on the Syracuse University campus.

Internship/Job Postings

Utilize OrangeLink, our online recruiting system, to share opportunities with student Veterans.

Career Fairs

Multiple career fairs are held in the fall and spring which can help connect, student Veterans to your opportunities.

In addition, there are opportunities for employers to sponsor and/or deliver targeted programs in order to gain more visibility and strengthen the relationship with student veterans.

If you want to learn more about these opportunities, contact Jennifer Pluta, assistant director of Veteran Career Services, jrpluta@syr.edu or 315.433.7183.